Parents and Schools acting and reacting to the Issue of Bullying

12 point font
double spaced

Have you ever been bullied in your life? Many children have been bullied in and out of school. There have been several reported cases of bullying and different kinds. Most children have been physically, verbally or psychologically abused by some of their peers. Bullying has even led to some cases of death all around the world because this problem has spread as far as Japan and the United Kingdom. Why wouldn't a victim of bullying alert someone? Are they scared that bullying could hurt them? In fact, many victims of bullying do not know how to solve this issue. There are several ways to address this problem that involve both the parents and the schools. Victims of bullying should open up to their parents and involve the schools because if this issue goes unnoticed, the problems of bullying can lead to higher incidents of violence, low self esteem, and even death. If parents and schools are both involved, the issue of bullying could improve because the problem would not be as big.
